

GM Account

“The GM Account gives me complete control of my MSDS inventory.”

Easy MSDS management.

It's estimated that 4.5 million facilities in the United States handle chemical materials. And, OSHA reports that each year more than 30 million American workers are exposed to hazardous chemicals in the workplace. MSDSonline® has responded by developing innovative on-demand EH&S compliance management products and services to help businesses of all sizes reduce the potential risks and liability associated with workplace exposures, injuries and illnesses.

Our GM Account gives you complete control over your MSDS inventory. Ideal for single- and multi-location organizations, the GM Account delivers on-demand access to a comprehensive suite of tools enabling you to build and maintain a compliant electronic MSDS library.

Around-the-Clock Access

It starts with around-the-clock access to the industry-leading online database containing millions of indexed and searchable MSDS documents. Our powerful search engine makes finding MSDSs quick and easy. And, if we don't have a specific MSDS, we'll get it for you. You also have the option to upload your own MSDSs, making your entire MSDS inventory immediately available online. What's more, only MSDSonline continuously adds new MSDSs. Each week, we add up to 10,000 new or updated MSDSs to our database, so you always have access to the most current and relevant MSDSs.

Comprehensive MSDS Management Tools

All of our MSDS management features are available online, giving you the freedom to do your work whenever and wherever you need to. The foundation of the GM Account is our exclusive password-protected eBinder technology. Think of it as your company's online management system for MSDSs.

Our robust set of tools enable you to organize your MSDS inventory the way that makes sense for your business – by product groups, storage locations, chemical inventory, regulatory categories, you name it. Easily assign synonyms, hazard information, ingredients, physical properties and Tier II data, or create custom keywords to help you quickly sort your inventory, find MSDSs or generate regulatory reports. Our chemical approval manager enables you to quickly control the status of the chemicals in your inventory.

The GM Account is also customizable, allowing you to turn on or off certain features as well as create custom fields based on your own internal policies and procedures. Your MSDS inventory can be printed, backed up to your PC or even saved to a portable electronic media device (CD, DVD or flash memory drive), giving you a fully compliant solution.

Seventy-five percent more cost-effective than traditional paper-based systems, the GM Account pays for itself in no time at all. Activate your GM Account today!
